Housing & Residential Services
ANNUAL REPORT
2006-2007
I AM PLEASED TO SHARE WITH YOU the Housing & Residential Services (H&RS) Annual Report, an account of the achievements and contributions of individual members and program units in our department during the 2006-07 academic year. This year’s report features success stories which focus on fostering peer recognition through our YES! Program, implementing a department-wide automated timekeeping system, and developing future leaders through the Residence Halls Association.

H&RS provides housing and associated residential life services for UC Santa Barbara’s undergraduate student, graduate student and faculty population. We employ a staff of 685 FTE in the department which equates to 422 regular employees and more than 800 student employees. H&RS is a campus auxiliary department within the division of Administrative Services, reporting to the Vice Chancellor for Administrative Services. As Executive Director of Housing & Residential Services, I serve as UCSB’s chief housing officer.

Our organizational structure is designed to promote cooperation in managing the service programs within the department. The programs include Apartment & Community Living (Family Student Housing, Single Student Apartments, Judicial Affairs, and Community Housing Office), Business & Financial Planning (Budget & Finance, Faculty Housing Services, Information Systems & Technology, and Learning & Development), Residential Dining Services (Carrillo, De La Guerra, Portola, and Ortega Dining Commons, and Special Events Catering & Concessions), Residential Life (Assignment Services, Judicial Affairs, and Program & Student Leadership Development), and Residential Operations (Maintenance & Energy Programs, Custodial & Landscaping Services, Campus Conference Services, and Project Management).

The 2006-07 year has been another very active and challenging year for Housing & Residential Services. A significant amount of my time was spent dealing with vacancies in my management team. Despite the comings and goings, we have continued to maintain our focus and make progress in a variety of areas. We had great opportunities to make our hopes and expectations come true in the many programs and services we offer, turning these initiatives into jobs well done. Here are a few of the initiatives that you will see more on later in the report:

Installed wireless access points throughout H&RS that run parallel to the existing wired network, allowing residents access to the internet in all H&RS facilities

Continued implementing “earth friendly” sustainability practices throughout H&RS

Expanded the Learning & Development Program with an opportunity for individual leadership coaching and five new class options

We continue to keep our eyes on the prize—scholarship, leadership, citizenship—that is the cornerstone of our work at UC Santa Barbara. We strive for excellence in key areas that lead to satisfaction for our residents, staff and other customers. Please take a moment to acknowledge the hard work of the people in Housing & Residential Services as we continue to provide exceptional service to those we serve. Thank you for reading about our accomplishments from 2006-07.

Wilfred E. Brown
Executive Director
The University of California, Santa Barbara, is a distinguished university recognized for its leadership by state, national, and world academic communities. Housing & Residential Services exists as an integral part of the educational program and academic services of UCSB. Inherent in the operation of Housing & Residential Services is the formation and support of an atmosphere that is conducive to living and learning for our residents and for those who use our services. Housing & Residential Services promotes the academic mission of UCSB and creates through support services and developmental programs a sense of community among students, faculty and staff.

H&RS Mission

The mission of Housing & Residential Services is based on the following premises:

- Learning is a continuous process.
- A community is positively served by responsible social behavior.
- The professional and paraprofessional staff serve as role models to the larger community.
- People learn from diversity.
- Environment affects behavior: A positive environment promotes positive behavior.
- Community action and involvement are key ingredients in the democratic process.
- Proper nourishment is equally important to a student's intellectual development.

HOUSING & RESIDENTIAL SERVICES is the largest department on campus, with more than 400 career employees working toward one goal -- to provide the best possible service to our customers. With so many different backgrounds and interests how does it all work? We share a set of seven core values that make living out our mission a reality. New employees are given a laminated We Are About card that lists the values that H&RS employees strive to exemplify in their daily work. These values were developed by staff members to reflect what we are about in our service to the organization, in our relationships with fellow employees, and most importantly, in our work for our customers.
The YES! Program ("You Are Exceptional Staff") was established to foster and encourage peer recognition and achievement. The program rewards employees for living out the core departmental values found on the "We Are About" card through trophies and value vouchers, and recognizes excellence in action in other organizations through the annual "Mentor of Exceptional Service Award" program. The YES! program is supported by a committee of staff volunteers who gather prizes, circulate trophies, count vouchers, coordinate the annual award program, and develop new ideas. As you will read in this feature story, it is a program of staff celebrating staff from the ground up!

Mentor of Exceptional Service

Each year Housing & Residential Services gives the "Mentor of Exceptional Service Award" to an individual, group or organization that excels in modeling service and commitment within their organization as well as in all of their interactions with customers, clients, and community partners. The YES! Committee coordinates the selection of the recipient and supervises the award ceremony that occurs during the spring quarter Town Hall meeting. It is the intent of Housing & Residential Services to continue to learn and grow from others who provide a high standard of service and a spirit of generosity to their customers. We are continually striving to be the best and recognize excellence wherever we see it at work. We are grateful for examples in action! The 2006-2007 recipient was Horizon Air.
The Trophies
At the quarterly Town Hall meetings, individual trophies (pictured at right) are awarded to employees who have exemplified a particular value. What makes this process so unique and motivating is that the current trophy winners choose the next winners and pass the awards along to them. The trophy presentation creates a chain of peer recognition, allowing employees to highlight co-workers who they see living out departmental values every day.

Value Vouchers
‘Voucher checkbooks’ are given to all H&RS staff members. The Value Voucher ‘checks’ can be distributed to co-workers whom they feel have lived out one or more of the “We Are About” values. Each quarter, employees bring the vouchers they have received to the Town Hall meeting, where the program really comes to life. Staff members place their vouchers in raffle bins and during the meeting there is a drawing to choose prizewinners. Each winning voucher is read aloud to celebrate the exceptional service of the employee and the individual who recognized them. After each meeting, the vouchers are counted and four additional trophy candy bowls are distributed to the employees who received the most vouchers.

The We Are About Trophy
The idea behind the “We Are About” trophy began in 1997 when Jack Huthsing found some old trophies in Anacapa Hall. He thought giving out the trophies would be a fun way for employees to acknowledge other employees whose performance at work goes beyond their job description. After receiving permission from Willie Brown to start the program, Jack picked the most conspicuous trophy he could find. The trophy now represents our value “Striving to be the best!” Pictured at right is Yentran Tran and Jack Huthsing, who, after creating the trophy 10 years ago, was awarded the trophy by Yen in 2007. Yen says, “Through Jack I’ve learned how to care broadly and deeply about the jobs and roles each of us holds. He is a generous advocate – always willing to give an encouraging word, share a thoughtful insight or ask a provoking question. I appreciate the honest and heartfelt sentiments Jack brings to any discussion. He is the soul of the ‘We Are About’ program. Jack not only created the trophy, but he embodies the spirit it represents!”
HOUSING & RESIDENTIAL SERVICES applauds the Kronos Committee for all of the time, effort and creativity its team members have devoted to the successful implementation of a new department-wide automated timekeeping system. After only four months of development, the project went live on August 1st, 2006 and successfully interfaced with Campus Accounting’s payroll system one month later. Now, employees’ time and attendance information is gathered electronically and automatically exported to the campus payroll system. The Kronos timekeeping system eliminates the need to spend time manually calculating totals and greatly simplifies the department’s record keeping. Departments are required to keep all employee timecards for seven years after they have ended their employment at UCSB, thus Kronos’ electronic storage capabilities greatly reduce the waste of paper and storage space.

By December 21st, 2006 the H&RS team had further integrated Kronos with the campus payroll system, allowing Kronos to automatically extract and calculate leave balances. Four months later, an overtime utility went into production which now helps to categorize the overtime and comp time that employees have earned. Housing & Residential Services’ Kronos implementation has been so successful that it has become the pilot project for future campus-wide use of the program.
ONE OF HOUSING & RESIDENTIAL SERVICES’ core values is “offering exceptional service to those we serve.” One of Residential Life’s strengths has been realizing that sometimes the best way to serve students is to allow them an opportunity to serve their campus. Residential Life works hard to keep the Residence Halls Association (RHA), the student government for all eight residence halls, running smoothly. RHA makes use of this university’s greatest resource, the talent of its students, and in return develops the students’ leadership and organizational skills. The fact that the last two Associated Students (AS) Presidents were past RHA presidents is a testament to the training members of RHA receive (see box at left).

In addition to offering students the chance to hone their leadership skills as RHA officers, RHA offers a wide array of programming to keep residents involved and informed. Social, recreational, educational, and cultural programming are all organized through RHA, giving residents the opportunity to play an active role in shaping their experience within the residence halls. Project CARE, also implemented with the help of RHA, further emphasizes that all residents should be active participants within their hall communities. Project CARE is a positive reinforcement program that rewards residents for respecting the facilities in which they live. Residents who live on floors without damages are entered into quarterly drawings for prizes and at the end of the year residents who live in damage-free halls are entered into a drawing featuring a $10,000 grand prize package. The grand prize helps bring students’ attention to the importance of tracking damages throughout the entire year, emphasizing that by working together the residents can keep their living space clean and safe for everyone to enjoy. In addition, at the end of each quarter the individual halls have the ability to appeal any damages listed for their hall. Increased attendance and input at the appeals board meetings have shown the degree to which Project CARE has strengthened community involvement.

RHA has taken a powerful approach to serving our students, implementing programs that enable our residents to transition from passive to active members of the University community.

TAKING THE LEAD

Stephanie Brower
RHA President 2006-2007
AS President 2007-2008

STEPHANIE came to UCSB from Laguna Hills, California having already served leadership roles in high school and competitive sports. After a year as RHA President, she followed in Jared’s footsteps (see below) and was elected A.S. President. During the Spring 2007 Associated Students Election, Stephanie highlighted the strength of the RHA program, writing in her election statement that, “Having served as President of the Residence Halls Association this year, I have developed a comprehensive understanding of the University structure and how it really functions. I will use the strong relationships I’ve already established with the UCSB administration to the benefit of all students.”

Jared Goldschen
RHA President 2004-2005, 2005-2006
AS President 2006-2007

JARED grew up in Woodland Hills, California and attended El Camino Real High School where he became interested in leadership. While serving as RHA President, Jared consistently encouraged our residents to become active students. He worked to promote involvement in campus clubs, athletic events and, of course, residence hall governance. Jared says that his involvement in RHA enabled him to meet new people and learn new skills, such as planning events and managing a budget, and that his experiences in RHA were some of the most rewarding of his college career.

H&RS PLANS: Housing & Residential Services engages in numerous planning processes. The Educational Equity Plan, the Strategic Plan, the Capital Plan, the Campus Housing Study, and Benchmarking prepare our organization for the future. These planning processes often bring together H&RS staff and the campus community to help create visions that will live out our values and direct our priorities in the future.

Educational Equity Plan
The Educational Equity Plan (EEP) was first created in 1990 to assist H&RS in managing the commitment to diversity that has been expressed at the departmental, divisional, university and system-wide level. The EEP provides an opportunity to evaluate our efforts and to connect them to an integrated, systematic, department-wide design. Unit Directors work with their areas to evaluate progress toward the goals of the EEP.

In 1999, efforts focused on four strategies: Provide Access, Increase Empowerment, Encourage Awareness, and Build Understanding. These overlapping strategies are designed to ensure that H&RS provides access where it is lacking and sustains an environment that encourages success for our diverse student and staff population.

Strategic Plan
A Strategic Planning Conference was held in 1998 to establish direction and priorities for housing through the year 2010. Vision Statements were created focusing on developing World Class Facilities, The Best Housing Value, Inclusive Learning Environments, Outstanding Customer Service, Valued Staff Members, Customer-Centered High-Tech Services, Pro-Active Energy and Resource Management, and Partnerships Within and Beyond the Department.

In January 2003, H&RS staff along with guests from several campus departments conducted a "midpoint check-in." A key focus was to assess progress toward the "Valued Staff Members" Vision Statement. Action Teams were formed to help insure that staff remain valued during this time of growth and change. The Strategic Plan is a living document with new goals set toward its continued accomplishment.

Capital Plan
One of our eight Strategic Plan visions is to have "world class facilities" by achieving excellence in all of our housing venues. Our Capital Plan fulfills this vision by renewing existing housing stock and increasing the housing available to the UCSB student community. We expect new and upgraded facilities that will set a 21st century standard for residential living and learning. Our investment strategy has allowed us to respond effectively to the needs of the student housing community, while maintaining rates at below market levels. The magnitude of the plan will create a larger organization and physical plant over a very short span of time. Our goal will be to maintain our health and vitality as an organization as we continue to provide resources that fulfill our value of quality service.

Campus Housing Study
Our campus’ long-term success is dependent on our ability to provide affordable housing opportunities to enroll and retain the best students, and recruit and retain the best faculty and staff. With this in mind, H&RS launched a housing master plan process to identify housing needs, goals and potential solutions through the year 2020. Urban Design Associates (UDA) led our campus through a planning process, which involved focus groups with students, staff, and faculty, and representatives from six UC campus housing departments. Land owned by UCSB was reviewed and potential sites for development were identified. The Campus Planning Committee approved the final report, titled "The UCSB Campus Housing Plan/Study," in 2006.

Benchmarking
In 2005, H&RS began integrating process improvement methodologies by working with the American Productivity and Quality Center (APQC). After assessing processes for improvement, we decided on two projects to benchmark against best practices in the field. Benchmarking is the process of identifying, understanding and adapting outstanding practices from other organizations to improve your organization.

The Senior Management Team worked on Succession Management. After reviewing APQC’s Best Practice reports, a Leadership Development process was designed to develop mid- and upper-level management. A second group of staff met over five months to conduct benchmarking on Professional Development. They made recommendations for dealing with gaps between our practices and best practices in other organizations, and reported where H&RS offers outstanding leadership.
We live in what could be described as exceptional times. These times have challenged all of us to look deeply at how we interact with the people and environment that surround us. In this process of discovery, we in H&RS realize that human beings are priceless and precious. Our ability to recognize this fact about people redefines our words and actions and changes our point of reference. Our shared humanity is what unites us.

In Closing

We realize that we are lucky to be here. The fact that we are here together; being productive for ourselves and others is our little miracle. We continue to model behavior that shows that we are truly a sustainable community because we care for and meaningfully engage our neighbors; because we care for our earth; because we always help, and never hurt. We are about ... having a dream!
